

In 1991, MCHM began operations with the Old Monroe County Courthouse as its only museum. Today, we have seven sites. The mission is founded on two beliefs: the understanding of our regional history enriches people's lives, and our heritage is most thoroughly perceived, best understood, and most enjoyed through individual, first-hand experience observing well-presented displays designed to tell the story of our past. MCHM collects, preserves, studies, interprets and exhibits artifacts, photographs and manuscripts. We serve the general public, schoolchildren, local residents, tourists and scholars. We operate with other institutions to help contribute to the quality of life in the region.
